

1924 PLAYGROUND SEASON IS AT END

Activities Ceased with Kiwanis Sponsored Picnic at the Park.

Playground activities for the 1924 season were concluded Thursday with the annual picnic, attended by 500, held at Riverside park. Seven hundred children and 100 parents made up the crowd. The gathering is accounted one of the most enjoyable held here, affording a large program of athletic events for both boys and girls, swimming, under the supervision of the two city life guards, practically all day, and the usual picnic entertainments. Dinner was served at noon.

Track and Field Meet
The track and field meet held during the afternoon was the feature of the day, deciding, in large part, the championship of the city for the year. The Douglas, with 134 points, was first, and the Webster, with 32 points, second. The contests, starting at 1 o'clock, continued for two hours, and were followed by a volley ball game between teams made up of mothers from the Washington and Webster schools.

Ideal weather was a large factor in making the picnic the success it was. Though there was an appearance of rain early in the day, bright sun soon brought the temperature up to 85 degrees. The grounds were somewhat wet in spots, but did not interfere with the program.

Adams Wins Baseball
The football program included the championship baseball game of the midwest league, between the Jefferson and Adams teams, and was won by the latter, 11-8. The teams had been tied up to that time. The Jefferson school junior championship baseball team was defeated by the Adams of the grounds, 16-12. Those on the directors' team were: Adams, Roscoe, Walton Lane, Roland Meyers, Roland Gridley, Kenneth Bick, William Fein, Russell Palmer and Art Wheeler. The girls' championship team, of the Jefferson school, was also scheduled to play the young women directors, but the game was called off on account of lack of time. There was keen competition between schools in the track and field events, good scores always bringing forth cheers from the group representing the school involved. The baseball games during the morning were watched by a crowd estimated at nearly 500.

Kiwanis Transportation
Many expressions of appreciation from playground and school officials were extended the Kiwanis club, who furnished transportation both to and from the park for nearly all the children who attended. Cars were on hand at the various schools promptly at 9:30, and many of them made several trips to the picnic site. Most of the members returned sometime during the afternoon and brought back those who were ready to go.

Except for the swimming beaches, work for this year's picnic was completed, and practically all equipment has been checked in at the high school, where it will be kept until next year. The larger pieces are being stored at the various schools by the janitors.

Director Wheeler is now at work on the scores made by the five schools in attendance and all activities during the eight-week period, preparatory to awarding the championship for this year. The winner will receive the Kiwanis club banner and cup. The letter to be kept until next fall, and it will be transferred to the winner for the new season. It is at present in possession of the Adams school. The report will be ready early next week.

The annual report to the board of education and the work of superintending the training equipment and other details will keep Mr. Wheeler in this city until September 1, he expects.

WHAT WE'VE HAD IN WEATHER WAY FOR ONE WHOLE DAY

A temperature of 88 degrees—
A drop of 27 degrees—
A howling windstorm of half an hour—
Three-quarters of an inch of rain—
A half inch rise in Rock river—
A formidable array of mosquitoes—
All of the above attacked Southern Wisconsin within the past day and added to the array of queer days of a queer summer.

Following the hottest day of the year, when the torrid wave was suffocating and no place was comfortable for even the breeze that could be found in high places was like that from a furnace, a wild storm came from the west, blowing into the city, played around for a while and blew out again.

Just as midnight was striking, gusts of wind started. By 12:15 a.m., the storm had entered the gap point and was hitting it up at approximately 50 miles an hour. Tree branches swayed, cracked and were carried away. Small loose objects went sailing. Then as a heavy rain fell and electrical discharges commenced, the wind seemed to die away until by 12:45 the worst was over.

No reports of any particular damage have been received. Telephone and electric lines had only minor cases of disturbance.

The temperature at noon, Friday, was 75 degrees, rising from 71 at 8 a.m.

AUTO DEALERS HAVE ANNUAL PICNIC
More than 55 members of the Rock County Auto Dealers' association held their annual picnic Thursday afternoon at Charley Bluff, Lake Koshkonong. The feature event was a kiltball game between picked teams captained by Robert Bugas and W. J. O'Connell, won by the former, 11-10. A chicken dinner was served at 6:30 p.m.

WALWORTH COUNTY

ELKHORN

MRS. GRANT HARRINGTON.

Elkhorn—Owing to the engagement of the Elkhorn Elks band at the state fair next Wednesday, the usual concert will be postponed until Thursday evening. This week's concert drew a large crowd in spite of the unfavorable tide. A title by the cornetists, Messrs. O'Brien, MacCall, and Walters, and a marionette performance by Messrs. McQuiston, Jack, Williams, and the men have to give several encores to satisfy their enthusiastic audience.

Dr. Edmund B. Sorenson, Elkhorn, and Mildred E. Henry, Virginia, are recent applicants for a marriage license.

A company of 20 young women were entertained at a 1300 clock luncheon, Thursday, by Miss Mabel Watson. Three ladies from Elkhorn, Misses Alfred Sorenson and the Misses Jennie and Olga Hansen, were guests. Cards furnished entertainment during the afternoon.

Twenty relatives and members of the Elkhorn family held a reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Foster, Stuart Creek, Wednesday, and enjoyed a picnic dinner. Mrs. Fred Fontaine and daughter, Annette, Seattle came out from Milwaukee for the occasion and the children, Burch and daughter from Wauwatosa.

The automobiles of Henry Reynolds, Geneva, returning from Delavan, and Carl Jones, going to Williams Bay, met at George Scudler's place on the town line road and, as a result, Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds and lady guest were somewhat bruised, as their automobile turned over and the car badly crushed.

The Rev. T. Parker Hulme is confined to his home during the week, after a sudden attack of illness last Saturday.

Mrs. Catherine Douglas has been ill that her family were summoned early in the week and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Welch and Charles Taylor, Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. Will Dealey and Mrs. Oris Taylor, Joliet, came to see her. The patient was reported better today.

Persons.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Frater and three children left for Detroit, Mich., Friday, after spending Mr. Frater's vacation with his parents.

W. A. Gunkle, Denver, Colo., has joined his family and they will remain another week with Mrs. Gunkle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McGill.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Watson and son, John, Manitowish, came Friday to have a week's vacation at the country home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Watson.

Mr. and Mrs. Bayard Lyon left Thursday to spend a week's vacation at St. Paul, Minn. Frank James returned to her home with her nephew and was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. J. E. Lyon, who will make an extended visit to St. Paul.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Waterbury and daughter, Denver, Mr. and Mrs. James Peterson, Clinton, Ia., visited Mr. and Mrs. Will Gutz, Wednesday, returning to Iowa on Thursday.

Mrs. Christine McDonald and mother, Mrs. Margaret Jewell, are guests of their relatives, Mrs. C. D. Hand, for the next few days.

Raymond Macdonald and son, Billy, Chicago, are visiting their cousin, Charles Lyon, for a week.

W. George, St. Louis, a former resident of Elkhorn, is seeing old friends in town for a few days.

Carl Joseph, out of town salesman for Frank Holton and company, is at home after a tour of a number of weeks up the Fox river valley.

The A. J. Johnson family are spending the week with relatives in Seymour, Ill. They started Thursday evening.

THE KINGDOM OF GOD

COMMENT ON THE UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON FOR AUGUST 24, 1924.

Read John 3.

WM. SOUTHERN, JR.

There was a man named Nicodemus, a Jew with a Greek name, who lived in Jerusalem in the time of Herod and was still living in Jerusalem when Jesus came up to the Passover at the beginning of his ministry. Nicodemus was a successful man. He was of an old and respected family, he was educated and wealthy. He was a man of fine mind and people came to him for advice and sometimes took that advice, if it was a Pharisee and was perfectly well satisfied with his religion. He was one of the elect and felt like he was entitled to a lot of consideration. He had settled in his own mind all the disturbing questions of doctrine and was sure that he was right and felt sorry for those who did not agree with him.

Nicodemus heard about John the Baptist preaching in the wilderness and how he called on men to repent and be baptized. He was rather supercilious about John. This kind of preaching was all right for the ignorant, for the sinner and for those who had not thought all these things out. He rather figured that perhaps this uncouth preacher was doing some good in his way. He thought about John like a lot of our preachers think about the Salvation Army. John did not disturb his peace of mind in the least.

Then came the news of another one to whom John bowed down and proclaimed The Messiah. Now Nicodemus knew all about the Jewish prophecies and believed in them. He could quote the book and page of every one of them. This was worth looking into. He watched the new comer and had a report brought to him about everything he did. He read all the bulletins and had special eyes on him. When he heard about the turning of the water into wine at the wedding in Cana he was interested. Then he heard about some of the remarkable doctrines of the new man he was preaching, possibly he went to hear Jesus, but this is not likely in the light of his interview at night. He was intrigued, a little disturbed, suppose this man was The Messiah. Nicodemus ought to know him and attach him to his court.

When Jesus cleaned the money changers out of the temple, Nicodemus rubbed his hands and chuckled. Here was a brave man, the temple ought to have been cleaned out long ago. Nicodemus had talked with the other members of the Sanhedrin about it but they used the same argument to him he heard when we suggested that the saloons be closed, the money paid for place in the temple was a great revenue, we would miss it and it would cause an increase in the taxes.

Nicodemus concluded he would meet this man and he did. His method was characteristic. He put on his fine cloak, took his cane in hand, and at night when nobody was looking, he went about to the house where Jesus was a guest. It was springtime and warm. Jesus was upon the roof of the home of a friend. He heard someone coming up the stone stairway and looking up he saw and knew Nicodemus for what he was.

Nicodemus was gracious and ready for an argument. He told Jesus that he recognized him as a man of God, a teacher with wisdom and would like to know more about the Kingdom of God, of which Jesus had been preaching. Nicodemus was startled and sat up with a jerk when Jesus said:

"Except one be born anew, he can not see the kingdom of God." Nicodemus was an old man, he answered as one of us might answer and asked how can an old man be born again. It was the same trouble we all have. This view of the materialist. Nicodemus was a Pharisee and a materialist. The trouble with the Pharisees was that they never had gotten the spiritual point of view. Jesus had just been through the 40 days in the wilderness and had made his choice between two ways, the material way of wealth and power and the spiritual way of poverty and service. It was very clear to him.

Nicodemus would have understood if he had said that a Jew was born a Jew, for Nicodemus knew that. He knew also that a Gentile to join the Jewish church must be circumcised, and if a man, be circumcised. He did not know what he learned afterward that a Christian is not born a Christian, but becomes a Christian, that the spirit must come from God.

Nicodemus felt that interview disturbed. He is mentioned again twice, once when he mildly defended Jesus in the Sanhedrin and again when he joined Joseph of Arimathea and they reverently took the body of Jesus from the cross and gave it burial. I would like to know what Nicodemus thought that night when he looked upon the murdered body of Our Lord. I think he understood then what Jesus meant when they met at that first interview. His whole system of life was toppling over, he was no longer the self-satisfied, well-groomed and rather arrogant ruler.

"We may all find The Kingdom of God. We may find it right here on earth and in our work and in our associations and in our manner of thinking."

In my home town for 40 years lived a famous preacher. He was known in many states for his life and his philosophy and revered wherever known. All ages and kinds of men came to him. His joy was in the open, with his flowers in the sunshine and it was while at work in his garden that he received the inspiration for his sermons.

One Saturday afternoon this preacher was working in his garden when a neighbor, who was a Seventh Day Adventist, passed that way and, as was his custom, stopped to talk. Presently he said to the preacher:

"Do you know that you can not go to Heaven if you work on the Sabbath day?"

The preacher clipped a dead leaf from a rose, dug about the roots of the flower and answered:

"I am in Heaven now."

This was what Jesus was trying to make Nicodemus understand that first interview on the housetop, under the gleaming stars of God. The Kingdom of Heaven is all about us. We do not have to die to see the Kingdom. All we need is to be spiritually born so that we may see and understand its glories.

An Appreciation of Red Crown

The High-Grade Gasoline

THERE'S just one way you can know the vast difference between Red Crown and other gasolines. That is by asking Red Crown to get you out of difficulties. It does it every time.

Here's one man's experience:

"Red Crown had been my engine fuel for many years—long tried, well tested, and entirely satisfactory—

"But, in a foolish moment, YOU KNOW, on the advice of a (so-called high-test) gasoline salesman, I changed my brand, and for several months used other kinds of gasoline with various unsettling results, as: Short mileage, with more frequent filling of my gas tank; hard to start after the lighter elements were used out of my tank; lack of power on a hill, with always in low as I climbed; and, to top my difficulties, one day I ran out of 'gas' on the hill.

"Then I was cured. I had always carried a gallon of Red Crown under the seat, and I put it in the tank and climbed the hill on high gear for the first time in months. Red Crown for me from now on."

Furthermore, Red Crown takes a hint with a haste that will delight you. It has the right attitude toward its job—peppy, active, ready to anticipate your desires, and always dependable.

Forestall trouble. Put Red Crown in your tank now—and laugh at sand, grades and mud!

SAYS WEST "LOST"
New York—The west is lost to Coolidge, Clom L. Shaver, democratic national chairman declared on his return from a tour of the middle western states.

BOTH BIG PARTIES BID FOR SUPPORT OF LABOR BALLOT

istation was in power the highest wages in the history of America were paid. These two ideals will dominate the appeals of the republican and democratic party. But there will be still another method of approach to the laboring man. Does he want groups and factions to dominate the next congress or does he want a period of inaction? It is contended that the La Follette ticket can not elect enough members of the senate and house to control that body. Does the laboring man want the wheels of legislation to be stopped altogether until a two years deadlock?

For Congress Members
The republican party is able to function if it obtains a sufficient majority of conservatives and the democratic party is able to function if it obtains a sufficient majority of progressives. They have fewer insurgents in their ranks than the republicans and they have fewer conservatives in their ranks than the democrats. They are, therefore, in a position to control the executive and legislative machinery as occurred in the eight years of the Wilson administration.

The laboring man is in some respects a radical. Many of the men who are for the La Follette-Wheeler ticket are socialists and radicals who believe that changes in the economic order will be accomplished without pain to their fellow workmen; but the vast majority of laboring men, judging by past campaigns, are keenly interested in keeping their jobs and having a good wage paid them. Anything that is likely to disturb their jobs worries them.

The working man wants no experiments that are likely to hurt him. He is at heart a conservative in the sense that he doesn't want a change except for the better.

Not a Solid Unit
The general impression has been conveyed that labor has been a solid political unit in all campaigns. It has not been. But it has a function in the election returns of previous years, except that labor usually votes for the party which it believes will improve business conditions, wages and employment. As proof of the relatively little influence which the American Federation of Labor has had in past campaigns, the experience of 1918 is cited. In that campaign President Wilson had the support of Samuel Gompers, who endeavored to make a speech in New York in favor of a democratic congress, but he was hissed and booed by one of the important trade unions. He has maintained for the most part a policy of nonpartisanism, largely because the membership of the American Federation of Labor is divided between the two major parties.

Socialist Vote
The old socialist vote, however, still survives. This plus the aggressive attitude of the big rivals of the American Federation, namely, the railroad brotherhoods and the political situation inside labor's ranks, brought out the formal endorsement of La Follette. The two major parties have not been discouraged by it but are laying their lines for an even more vigorous campaign to retain the labor vote.

CITY NEEDS MORE VOTING PRECINCTS

Nine of 10 Now Effective Have in Excess of 500 Votes in Each.

Need of a redistribution of the city of Janesville so as to create five or six additional voting precincts making a total of 15 or 16 was pointed out by City Manager Henry Traxler on Friday. Under the present plan of seven wards and 10 precincts, all but one of the precincts have in excess of the legal limit of 500 voters. The change cannot be brought about, however, in time for the general election in November. The law requires that new precincts can be created not less than four months before an election. There is a possibility, though, that the number of voting districts will be increased before the spring election of April, 1925.

Second Ward Election
"We must have a meeting and go over the entire plan carefully," said Mr. Traxler, "with the aim of having not more than 500 votes in any one precinct."

At the last election in which there was a record vote, that of April, 1922, when the first city manager council was being elected, the first precinct of the Second ward was the only one to turn in a total vote of less than 500. The number of ballots cast in that precinct in that election was 355. A tabulation of the returns of the total vote in the 1923 spring election shows the first precinct of the Fourth ward to be the largest in the city, with 822 votes. The Sixth ward is next with 712.

On the face of the table it appears necessary that the first ward be subdivided into two precincts. Instead of two as at present, the table is true of the Second ward, in the Third, Fifth, Sixth and Seventh, only two precincts could be necessary, while the Fourth would require at least three. Ward lines might be changed to eliminate the necessity for so many additional precincts, it is explained.

The table of the 1923 vote shows the following:

First, 1st pct.	314
2nd pct.	602
	1,116
Second, 1st pct.	365
2nd pct.	617
	1,012
Third	510
Fourth, 1st pct.	822
2nd pct.	657
	1,479
Fifth	622
Sixth	712
Seventh	611

Advocates Using Schools
City Manager Traxler is an advocate of the plan effective in most cities of using ward schools as voting places and hopes that some of the Janesville schools may eventually be used as such. At present only one school, the new high school, is used for this purpose in the Sixth ward. The situation of Mr. Traxler has been called several times to the need of a revision of election districts and came up again this week with the resignation of Henry Carpenter as chairman of the election board in the Sixth ward. While Mr. Carpenter did not give this as a reason for resigning, he recommended that a change be made for the benefit of his successor so it would not be necessary for one election board to be responsible for the tallying of 700 to 800 votes as is the case in that ward.

Mr. Carpenter also suggested compliance with the law requiring ballot clerks to serve on registration day in addition to the inspectors. The plan in Janesville has been to have only the three inspectors in each precinct serve on registration day.

City Force Drops as Motor Plant Takes on Labor

With the taking on of additional help of the Chevrolet and Fisher body companies plants here, a number of city construction men are losing men, but the condition is a fortunate one as the motor plant of the city under ground work has now been completed and it would be necessary to cut the force anyway.

If A. Grifley, water works engineer, reports the resignation of seven or eight of his lateral laying crews to return to work at the Chevrolet plant, it is now working only a small force on Milwaukee avenue but expects to increase it when Milton avenue is completed.

"The matter has broken luckily for Janesville," he said. "We had a big need for men just as the Chevrolet began to curtail production. Now that we are about through with our work, the plant is beginning to take them back."

HIRST WOULD CURB EMERGENCY BOARD

Give Legislature Its Power, Plea; Tax Reduction Urged by Candidate.

Milwaukee—Reduction in state taxes and removal of the power of the emergency board to appropriate state funds, leaving such power entirely to the state legislature, were advocated by A. B. Hirst, republican candidate for governor, in an address here Friday. Mr. Hirst outlined his taxation program.

"In determining a policy or program we must do it on a fact basis," Mr. Hirst stated. At the 21st of the state tax commission, recently issued, shows that taxes are mounting at an alarming rate. In the last term of the present governor the total collections amounted to $64,219,815, in the first term of the present governor they amounted to $67,198,815, showing an increase in the present administration of $2,978,999.

"Moreover, taxes continue to increase. In the nine months June 30, 1923, to March 31, 1924, the collections increased over a similar nine months of the previous year in the sum of $2,650,000, and disbursements increased the sum of $3,122,000. Here is one final fact, the governor and state agency board, the governor and state treasurer, have in the past year assumed functions of the legislature and voted appropriations of $1,000,000. This practice must be stopped."

"With these facts, there is only one conclusion that can be reached, that taxes must be cut, the brakes must be put on the state agency board, shifting the burden, but reducing the taxes. Let the legislature make the appropriations instead of the emergency board. So far as highways are concerned, the governor and state agency board, the governor and state treasurer, have in the past year assumed functions of the legislature and voted appropriations of $1,000,000. This practice must be stopped."

"Encourage Negroes
Washington—President Coolidge, in a letter to Robert C. Atton, president of the National Negro Business league, said the negroes of America "will win their full political rights through the investment of their position and rightfulness of their claims."

ON PARKING CARS SO THE ACCIDENTS WILL BE REDUCED

Hundreds of accidents take place from careless or improper parking. Recognizing this fact the American Automobile association has issued a circular calling attention to some recommendations to be made in parking. The suggestions are:

"Do not seek main highways for parking purposes. Use the secondary roads where there are plenty of opportunities for parking. The road, in event of puncture try to get the car as far off the traveled portion of the road possible before changing the tire, and in no case stop on a curve or near the top of a hill."

"Never stop opposite a car that has parked along the road. If you want to ask your way stop your car at least 150 feet beyond and walk back to inquire."

"You are not safe sitting in your car while it is parked on a highway. Furthermore you are a source of danger to those who are obliged to turn out to pass you."

"If you turn into a blind driveway to park have the back of the car to the main road. When your car is facing the road motorists will think you are just driving into the road, they may make a sudden stop before discovering that you are not in motion, and cars following them may be thrown into a series of rear-end collisions."

"Parking a car at night on a main highway is doubly dangerous. You never know what minute the tail light may burn out."

LA FOLLETTE PLANS DRIVE IN SOUTH

Washington—The La Follette-Wheeler campaign managers are directing their attention to New England and the south.
